Cirago is an international technology company founded in Hong Kong, 1996; engaged principally in the manufacturing and distribution of electronic products. The manufacturing facilities are located in Shengzhen, Mainland China. The factory's solely owned properties and production facilities employ 2,000 workers. There is an additional 300 employees in Beijing in our R&D and marketing departments supporting distribution worldwide.

About Us

Cirago specializes in consumer electronics, computer peripheral, and IA products. We recorded annual sales of over $125 Million for the fiscal year 2001. Our major OEM customers include PC manufacturers, such as Legend, NEC, Samsung, Hyundai, and Goldstar. The focus is on OEM/ODM business with strong relationships with a number of PC manufacturers in China as well. We export products worldwide to all areas and regions of the globe. For many years, we have committed ourselves "to develop quality ideas, produce quality products, and provide quality pricing for the technology arena". This strategy has been implemented through technical innovation, production process optimization, and capital operation. Cirago has several subsidiaries that provide professional industrial design, R&D, along with system integration and solution development. Manufacturing headquarters are located in Beijing, housing hardware and software R&D teams, in addition to marketing, and sales teams. We are dedicated to bringing advanced technical products to the world market with Cirago being a leading supplier of equipment and solutions for the computer era.

Cirago established its first overseas branch in the heart of Silicon Valley California in 1999 for the distribution of computer peripherals and components. This branch has since become a recognized "PC-Internet Superstore" offering high quality computer peripherals and components at the lowest prices. We offer a broad spectrum of brand name hardware and software products to businesses, electronic consumers, and home users.

This year, Cirago embarks on a new concept launching a line of MP3 players into the U.S. market; working closely with chain stores and online retailers to promote the product line. Our California warehouse provides the shipping and RMA services to our customers.

Cirago strives toward total customer satisfaction and is dedicated to offering strong and reliable products and services. We believe in teamwork and are committed to bringing you a strong product at a value proposition.
